Sharp Future Farm Banquet is Held

"You will be builders, rather than exploiters of the soil in the future,"

Gordon Worley, special supervisor for the state department of education, Austin, told members of the Sharp chapter of Future Farmers of America at a farther and son barbecue banquet Friday evening. "Farmers of the old school worked individually. You will co-operate as you are taught to do here in your class work."

Declaring that farming is coming to be a way of life, he continued: "Farm life will not be a life of leisure, and farming will not necessarily be a means of getting rich. But it will be one sure way to bring joy, security and friendliness to the land."

"It will be your duty to leave the soil in better condition than the condition in which you found it. You will make much more use of machinery, gas and electricity than did the earlier farmers. And you will be expected to do a better job of farming than they."

M. V. Hallman, vocational agriculture instructor of the Sharp school and advisor of the FFA chapter there, introduced the principal speaker. E. D. Parnell, Cameron high school vocational Agriculture teacher, and Judge W. G. Gillis also spoke briefly. County Superintendent Guy T. New (Turn to page 12)

EDITORIAL

The close of school is fast drawing near, and those long dreaded examinations are soon to stare you in face and say, "We determine whether you pass or fail, and to some of you, we will determine whether you will wear that cap and gown and get that long sought for diploma. When you know that you must pass the examination to graduate, then your real test of honesty comes. It is all too tempting to watch the teacher turn her back, and, then, to copy from your neighbor's paper. Yes—cheat or fail; cheat—or not graduate! But must you cheat to graduate? It is approximately three more weeks until final exams are given. What of it? Well, just "buckle down" right now and start reviewing. Stay at home from those week-night entertainments and review—study—study. Then you will be self-dependent. Don't copy. Rely on yourself. If you are planning to graduate, learn now before you leave high school to depend on yourself. Why not risk your own knowledge rather than someone else's? Did it ever occur to you that the other person might be wrong and that you not only would be searing your own conscience but probably writing the wrong answer, too? Why not develop your own mental faculties and make something of yourself? A conscience won't stand cheating. Don't ruin it. It's valuable.

In these last few days of high school "buckledown" and study hard, hard the rest of the year; depend on your own knowledge when you take your test, and here's ten to one that you will graduate.

Evelyn Dusek spent Sunday in Waco.

WHY AMERICA'S SHAMEFUL AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT RECORD?

EDUCATION ENGINEERING ENFORCEMENT

Nearly 40 million drivers, some good and some bad... Three times that many pedestrians, including the lame, the halt and the blind... More than 28 million automobiles, some in good condition and others nearly to fall apart... Three million miles of highways, with a score physical hazards in every mile. Add all these together and you have America's traffic lottery, a complex game of life and death in which all of us, willing or not, must participate.

America's shameful automobile accident toll, according to the latest figures issued by The Travelers insurance Company, reached the staggering total of 30,800 dead and 967,840 injured in 1936.

Why? Many individuals make the mistake of attributing this awful toll to one or two simple causes. The engineer says: "When we build better highways and cars, the accidents will stop." The law enforcement officer says: "The only way to teach motorists to behave is to crack down on them." Some persons say "Cut down speeds and you'll cut down accidents." Others claim with equal emphasis: "Eliminate drunken driving and you'll eliminate most of the accidents."

Actually, there are many causes of accidents, and a natural remedy for each. Picture above are a few.

Many American cities are enjoying reductions in their accident rates each year in spite of the fact that the totals for the country as a whole are climbing steadily upward. These cities are seeking to the correct causes and applying the correct remedy to each. They are carrying on a balanced program of education, engineering and enforcement.

J. W. KEMP

Many friends over the entire county were made sad by the death of J. W. (Jim) Kemp, who departed this life at his home in Cameron on Sunday a. m. April 18th, after several months of suffering, and although all that loving care and skill could do, death claimed him.

In the passing of J. W. Kemp, every one who knew him felt the poignant loss of a good man, a fine citizen and a true friend; a gentleman of the finest character, loving the finer things of life, and one who could be trusted to uphold everything that was for the best interests of his community, never failing in his duty whatever the occasion might be, a man who was often observed offering a word of encouragement to those whom the public generally passed un-noticed, and who was never too busy to stop and render help to his fellowman and friends, in sickness or in health, and above all a good Christian, whose exemplary life leaves a sweet memory to his friends and loved ones, and his friends over the entire community extend heartfelt sympathy to his estimable wife, and other loved ones in their irreparable loss.

CARD OF THANKS

It is with deep gratitude I express my thanks for the many thoughtful courtesies and kindness extended in the illness and death of my husband. It is comforting to live in a community where friends are so good and thoughtful, and I wish to thank each of you for your goodness.

Mrs. J. W. Kemp.

CARD OF THANKS

We are deeply touched by the kindness and consideration of so many of our friends and neighbors who came to us in our recent great sorrow in the death of our beloved wife and mother, daughter and sister, Mrs. Raymond Dees. We will hold in grateful memory all who came to aid us and to speak words of comfort. We thank those who gave flowers and all who in any way assisted us.

Dwight Moody Of Cameron At Jones Prairie Miss Mary Tom Stidham Becomes Bride Of

In a pretty twilight home wedding Friday at Jones Prairie, Miss Mary Tom Stidham of Jones Prairie became the bride of Dwight Moody of Cameron. The marriage was performed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Stidham, with Rev. J. Coy Williams, pastor of the local Methodist church officiating in the ring ceremony.

"I Love You Truly" was sung by Mrs. Ernest Balerstead of Manor. Miss Ella Randolph of Calvert played the piano accompaniment and the wedding music.

The bride and bride-groom entered the living room together and unattended, taking their place before an altar improvised with lilies, fern, snapdragons and roses. Crystal Candelabras holding three lighted white tapers stood at each end of the mantle.

Legislature Quits

(Editor's note: This article is published as a news item, and represents the personal views of Mr. Ferguson only.)

The regular session of the 43th Legislature will end on the 11th day of May, 1937. While the session could be extended indefinitely, yet as the pay of the members at $10 a day ends on that day, following custom, usually adjourns rather than work longer for the measly sum of $5 a day.

If the Governor calls a special session the members pay is $10 a day. This makes special sessions popular with many members.

This legislature has been an eventful session. Not so much because of eventful accomplishment, but rather because of uneventful results. What the Legislature don't do pleases the people more than what they do do.

Senator John Bailey used to remark that as long as the Legislature does not legislate they will not appropriate. However, this rule will not apply to this Legislature.

In the first place the people are going to be much displeased by the Legislature's failure to pass a tax bill at least sufficient to pay the actual and needed expenses of running the government. Already there is murmuring because the Legislature will soon have been in session 120 days (4 months) and after this enormous expense of some $3,000 a day, the necessary appropriations have not been made to carry on the government, and as a result a special session of 30 days and maybe 60 days will have to be called at $3,000 a day. Campaign discussions next year will wax warm when they begin to explain who was to blame.

The big rich merchants who charge their customers from 25 to 75 per cent profit will celebrate if the Legislature does not pass a sales tax. This tax which would fall the heaviest on those who are able to make large purchases of merchandise and tightest on those who are unable to pay has been viciously fought during this Legislature by the merchant princes, and they will hold a regular wax dance celebration if they can kill the bill.

But let our friends be of good cheer. No question is ever settled until it is settled right. If we lose this year, let us at once prepare to renew the contest for an equalized tax burden.

The people will not complain because the Legislature did not levy a high tax on natural resources, because they already know that they would in the end pay the price for the manufactured product. High tax on crude oil means high gasoline and lube, and the people know it.

"Jones always pays the freight." A failure to repeal the horse race bill will mean that the fight will go on and racing will be one of the big issues in next year's campaign.

The failure to do anything towards the payment of the 15 million dollar deficit of the state will not do us any good when we again attempt to tell the people of other states what a great place we have to live in.

Extravagant appropriations by the Legislature when we are 15 million dollars in the red is not a good example set by those who would lay claims to the honor of statesmanship. Let our state debts increase just a few more millions and we will be in a worse fix than the Federal government is with its 36 billion dollar deficit. Uncle Sam can pay 30 thousand easier than our state can pay 30 cents.

For the good of the state I know everybody hopes that the Governor and the Legislature will iron out their differences. I am sure both are trying to do the best they know how, but what they don't know may be the most, making it all the more necessary that they get down to their duties and problems.

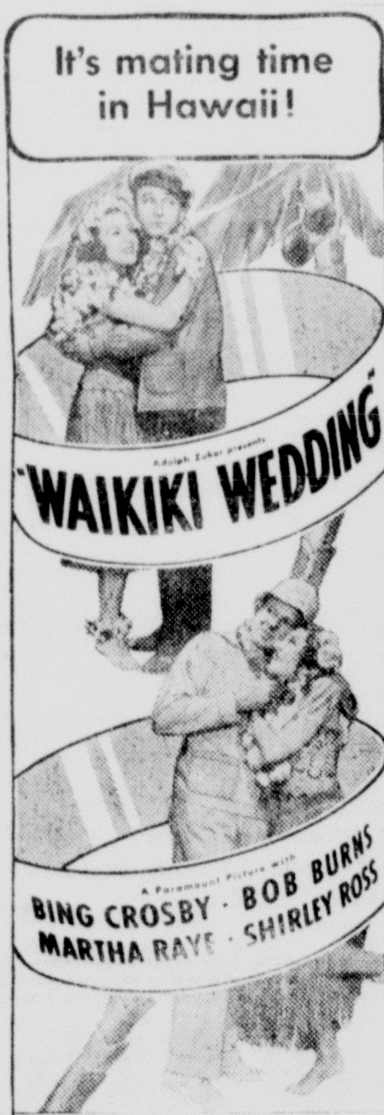

While I do not look for the Legislature to do much during the remainder of the session, yet I look for the call session which will have to be called soon to make a heroic effort to accomplish at least some of the things which the people expect them to do.

So boys, come on, let's go. You young boys haven't registered yet. If you do your part, you need not worry about Jimmie. He will have to do his. A little close communion right now would do good.

departments and traffic arteries, modern fixture equipment, and colorful treatment for the display of merchandise and the creation of a warm, cheerful sales atmosphere.

Romance of American Business
Expansion of the Penny Company from a small store in Kemmerer, Wyoming into a farflung coast-to-coast organization of 1500 stores, located in every state in the Union, is regarded among retailers as one of the romances of American Business. Mr. J. C. Penny's Kemmerer store opened in 1902, did a first year business of $28,000. Last year the sales of the organization exceeded $258,000,000.

The Company is headed by Earl C. Sams who started with the Company as a clerk in the original Kemmerer store, and in ten years advanced to the presidency.

Much of the success of the organization, has been due to its policy of vesting full merchandise control of each store with the local manager who has only one objective in mind: to serve the community in which he is located. Each manager also shares liberally in the profit of his store.

Company Employs Over 35,000
Except for managers who must have had years of training in Penny store operation, the Company's policy is to employ only local salesmen and saleswomen with merchandise experience in the towns where the stores are located. Over 35,000 men and women are now regularly employed by the organization.

Just as the Company's store managers are given an opportunity to share in the profits of the stores they operate, the salesmen and saleswomen share in the profits of their individual efforts through a general bonus system used throughout the Company.

Store to Open in Summer
Architects are now completing the construction details of the building and actual work is expected to start at an early date. Every effort will be made to have the building ready in time for an early Summer opening of the store.

MAY 15 FINAL DATE TO FILE WORK SHEET

Farmers are notified that final date for filing Work Sheet under the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act, is May 15. Every farmer is urged to file a Work Sheet before the final date.

It is further pointed out that it is necessary for all land owned or operated by a producer to be covered by a Work Sheet before he will be eligible to receive any payment. Even though land is not being farmed in 1937, it would be covered by a Work Sheet, provided the owner or operator concerned expects to qualify for payments in 1937 on other farms which he owns or operates this year.

THE WASHINGTON STAGE

Reviewed By
W. R. POAGE
OUR CONGRESSMAN

Thursday night the House finally passed one of the most monstrous pieces of demagogery that I have ever seen go through any legislative body. The Gaigan anti-lynching bill is not only admittedly unconstitutional—one of its own proponents stated in the record that he did not consider it constitutional but that he would have to vote for it—it seeks to place the control of local law enforcement in the hands of the Federal Government and will beyond any doubt greatly increase the number of violent deaths by making it unlikely that any negro accused of a serious crime will ever again receive the protection of the law enforcing officials of the South. The only merit that can properly be ascribed to the bill is that in the words of one of its advocates, it will probably keep a bunch of northern Democrats, who represent large negro districts, in Congress. It is said that the author, Mr. Gavagan of New York, who represents a Harlem district, has more negro constituents than any other Congressman.

***

The bill provides that when a mob takes a prisoner away from the custody of a peace officer for purpose of violence that the Federal District Attorney shall prosecute both the officer and all officers with power to act to protect the victim, including even the Governor of the State, and that these officers may be fined up to $5,000 each and be subject to 5 to 25 years imprisonment. They are also subject to civil suit by the relatives of the deceased as is the County in which the lynching occurs. And the County may be required to pay a $10,000 penalty even though no one in that County has anything to do with the lynching. Remember all of these penalties are imposed on officers and taxpayers but not on the parties who do the lynching. During the last fifty years there has been a 5000% decrease in lynching. No Northern State can point to any record even remotely approaching this record of the Southern States for stamping out crime and when we proposed to include gang murders in this bill, New York representatives were the first to object. They are ready to have the Federal Government try to penalize the Southern Counties for every failure to enforce the law but they are unwilling to apply the same rule to their own lawlessness and by confining their penalties to cases where a victim "is taken from the custody of an officer" there can be no doubt but what officers will hesitate long before they take custody of a negro accused of heinous crimes. The officers will simply let the mob take the victim rather than try to protect him and subject themselves, their state and their County to the penalties of the Federal Courts, for remember there is no violation of this Act if the victim has not been in the custody of an officer. Unfortunate as is its attack on the principle of local self-government, it is more unfortunate that the splendid progress that the South has made in stamping out lynching should be stopped and that hundreds of innocent as well as guilty blacks will undoubtedly die unnecessarily simply that a group of mis-led idealists and a larger group of negro-elected politicians can continue to pull the wool over the eyes of the very people they claim to aid.

***

We can only hope that the Senate will display a sane brand of statesmanship and if not that the courts will strike the Act down as its own proponents say it is unconstitutional. In this connection we have a splendid example of the attitude of too many Congressmen. They state, as Congressional Record, that they believe the measure to be unconstitutional, but still they vote for it. How

Oldest U. S. Grocer Found in Maine

Albert A. Cole of Portland, Maine, who has been found to be the oldest active grocer in the United States in continuous service. He is eighty-four and the record shows he has served 73 years and 8 months in the retail grocery business. The disclosure of Mr. Cole as the patriarch of the trade followed a search carried on since the first of the year by the National Association of Retail Grocers.

Can we hope for constitutional Acts of Congress, when the very men who vote for them say in advance that they are unconstitutional? And yet it is not entirely the fault of the Congressmen, for I have several letters each week from people in our district asking me to disregard the constitutionality of this, that or the other legislation in which they are interested and pass it anyway.

The only other important Act of the House this past week has been the passage of the Pettengill Bill which allows railroads to reduce their long haul rates to meet water competition. I voted for the bill believing that it would enable the Santa Fe, the Missouri Pacific, the Southern Pacific and the Katy to handle a volume of through business that is now moved by water. If this is done, it will mean much more work for our trainmen and shop men at Temple and Waco particularly.

The Immigration Committee, of which I am a member, reported out at bill to provide for the deportation of aliens convicted of crime in the United States. I only wonder why we have never had such a bill in the past. It seems to me to be fundamental that this government should be rid of those who are here from abroad and instead of becoming American citizens become criminals and a burden to this country. Under this bill they will be sent back to their own countries.

"I have me a good clothes closet and it has not cost anything except some hard work," said Gladys Cryer, the Wardrobe Demonstrator for the Val Verde 4H Club.

"The lumber for the closet was just old scrap lumber that I found around the place and scrubbed real well before I used it. The nails came from boxes."

Gladys has built her closet in a room that she plans to fix up for her sister. She is going to have her closet papered when the room is papered.

A good clothes closet at a cost of $1.75 has been one of the accomplishments of Imogene Steele in her 4H club work this year. Imogene is the Wardrobe Demonstrator in the Curry 4H Club.

***

Most of the lumber for her closet came from a refrigerator crate which she bought for fifty-cents. She bought enough new lumber for fifty-cents to build the frame for it. The other seventy-five cents she spent for nails, hinges and knobs for the doors. Imogene made the shelves for her closet from the sides of apple boxes and papered it with paper on hand left from papering the house. She planned her closet so that it would provide a rod for hanging garments, a long shelf above this for hats and shelves on one side for shoes, folded garments and her sewing box and other 4H club materials.

Lewis

Lewis. Her father served Milam county as sheriff from 1880 to 1890 and was elected Mayor and Marshal of Cameron.

Following her graduation from Cameron high school, Miss Jeff, went to Ursuline convent in San Antonio. In later years, true to the traditions of her family which had fashioned so many useful lives, she took up the profession of nursing. She entered the school of nursing and was graduated from the Cameron Hospital several years ago and since that time had followed this call to duty.

A devout Catholic she possessed the ardent faith of the Christian and to her the faith of administering to others exemplified the doctrine of charity so well known in the church of which she was a life long member.

The body of the beloved nurse lay in the quiet chapel of the Coleman Funeral home throughout the day Monday and Tuesday night. Vigil was kept by the family and close friends, among them, members of the nursing staff at the hospital and many from St. Monica's Catholic church.

At ten o'clock Tuesday morning Mass was celebrated in the beautiful church of her faith, Monsignor J. B. Gleisner of Bryan and Father O'Reilly of Temple, joined by Rev. Father George Apel, pastor of the church, conducting the services. The body was taken to the church following the mass and there final rites were held in the beauty and solemn grandeur of this old Christian faith.

Flowers in profusion, colorful in array, banked the funeral chapel and the church, sent from many who sought to express the sorrow so keenly felt. Interment was made in the Oak Hill Cemetery where the family burial plot is located.

Of impressive beauty and devotion were thirty nurses in full uniform who stood in formation during the funeral services.

Pall bearers were: O. L. Kidd, E. O. Schiller, Penn Wolf, Roy Baskin, F. C. Fahrendorf, H. M. Hefley, Roy Law and Walter Sharpe.

Miss Lewis is survived by one brother, A. J. Lewis, former criminal district attorney; and two sisters, Mrs. Lola Hearrell of Cameron and Mrs. Giles L. Avriett of Austin.

She told us what was fit to wear to school. It is not necessary to wear such accessories as: bracelets, necklaces, etc. Sometimes gloves are not necessary because they are in our way when we play or write.

Refreshments were served and the meeting was then adjourned to meet with Miss Julia Helpert on May 4.
